PORTER-WHITEHEAD TRIAL TO BE SET IN COURT TODAY

Selection of a date for trial of a suit of Miss Frances Porter, Atlanta dancer, who seeks $250,000 damages from Conkey Whitehead, capitalist, for alleged injuries growing out of an escapade aboard Whitehead's yacht in Havana last spring, will be made today.

Attaches of Judge Virlyn B. Moore's court had announced the trial date would be set Friday but the judge postponed selection until today after a conference with Whitehead's attorneys, Howell, Heyman and Bold.

It is expected that a preliminary fight will be staged by the defendant's counsel, who contend that Whitehead never has been served proper notice of the suit. The service was made at Whitehead's Paces Ferry road home but his lawyers contend that it was not his legal residence for many months prior to the filing of the suit. Whitehead has not returned to Atlanta since the suit was filed last summer.

INHERITANCE TAX OF $6,653.41 PAID BY KAISER ESTATE

An inheritance tax of $6,653.41 was paid Friday by the estate of the late Nat Kaiser, prominent Atlanta businessman. The estate was assessed at $8429,525. Mr. Kaiser died in Atlanta on December 30, 1928.

$713,636.07 NEEDED FOR SCHOOL REPAIRS

Supplementary Budget Lists Submitted to Board of Education.

General maintenance and needed repairs to the Atlanta school system's buildings will require a total of $713,636.07 during next year, according to part two of the board of education's 1930 budget.

The letter of transmittal to the mayor and general council and to members of the board of education points out that the supplementary budget lists various items which should be cared for within the next few months in order to prevent very much larger cost if allowed to go much longer.

The main budget of the board of education for 1930, the tentative draft of which is in the hands of board members, calls for $3,415,705.59 in appropriations. The budgets were prepared by Raymond R. Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs.

Items listed in the supplementary budget have been reviewed by the school principals and by many city officials responsible for the well-being of the buildings, Ritchie says in the letter of transmittal.

"The writer being reasonably familiar with the entire situation feels that the mayor and general council and members of the board of education should review the general problem of school maintenance with extreme care in order that future failures may be avoided to the very greatest extent possible," Ritchie states. "As an example of the extreme need which faces the school department, mention might be made of some 20 roofs which have leaked so badly (with no funds to repair them) that not only is the replacement of the roof necessary but a large percentage of the plastering and painting of the interior will have to be included."

Ritchie also calls attention to the fact that "at least 20 of our schools have plumbing fixtures which are practically worn out and the sanitary conditions are extremely bad." Ritchie also states that "great inconvenience has been felt in at least 20 more of our older buildings due to the lack of repair that has been given the heating plant."

The amounts listed by Ritchie as necessary for general maintenance and overhauling of schools in each ward are: first, $11,061.52; second, $122,021.76; third, $89,520.55; fourth, $97,328.92; fifth, $97,784.60; sixth, $20,340.10; seventh, $48,815.65; eighth, $22,735.50; ninth, $46,588.29; tenth, $48,214.30; eleventh, $20,570.55; twelfth, $18,740.62; thirteenth, $83,797.80; miscellaneous, $6,038.82.

Rusco Force In Southeast Meets Monday

Representatives of the Russell Manufacturing Company, in the southeast will arrive Sunday for their annual convention which will be held at the Biltmore Monday and Tuesday.

Atlanta is the distributing point for Rusco products in the entire southeast. The warehouse and offices are located at 559 Whitehall street. G. N. Shoop is manager and W. S. Ray, assistant manager.

The year 1930 is the 100th anniversary of the Russell Manufacturing Company, which is located at Middletown, Conn. The company has progressed until it is now the largest manufacturer of narrow webbing in the world.

C. C. Lyman, assistant manager of the national organization, will be in attendance as well as R. F. Jones, chief engineer of the belting department.

SMALL MOTOR CARS SOUGHT FOR POLICE NOW RIDING CYCLES

Members of the city police traffic squad may change mounts within the next few weeks, it was indicated Friday at the city hall.

At present the traffic squad is chasing speedsters on motorcycles. Six members of the squad have been laid up with broken ankles and other fractured bones within the past few months because of spills on slippery streets.

Councilman James L. Wells, of the eighth ward, announced Friday that as chairman of the traffic committee he will ask the police committee to request an appropriation for small and speedy automobiles for the men who now are mounted on motorcycles.

BROADWAY CONTRACT GIVEN EMORY SINGER

John C. Panter, Tenor, Is Signed by Fanchon and Marco.

John C. Panter, tenor of the Emory University Glee Club, has been given a contract to sing before New York audiences and he will leave Atlanta within the next few weeks to begin his career there. It was learned Friday night from officials of the Fox theater where Mr. Panter is singing with 19 others in a chorus ensemble all of this week.

He possesses a tenor voice of rare quality, and in addition to taking part in chorus numbers at Atlanta's newest theater, he is being featured as soloist in "Deep Night." It was his singing of this number upon the opening day that attracted the attention of Miss Fanchon Wolf, of New York. She is a partner with her brother, Marco Wolf, in the idea firm Fanchon and Marco. They furnish talent for New York stages and a contract has been signed for the services of Mr. Panter, who is a senior at Emory.

The Emory singer has made an enviable record at the local institution. Not only is he a soloist of the club, but he also is the director of the Freshman Glee Club, and prior to his entrance at Emory he was a featured singer in the original New York cast of the "Desert Song."

HARDEGREE PLEA WILL BE REOPENED BY JUDGE POMEROY

Reopening of a hearing on Elwell L. Hardegree's application for release on bail will be made some time next week, Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy said Friday.

Judge Pomeroy was scheduled to have reopened the hearing Friday. Hardegree, the confessed slayer of Professor Alexander H. Johnson, is in Fulton tower awaiting trial. His application for bond was denied last Saturday but at that time Judge Pomeroy said he might reopen the hearing.

George L. Finch, counsel for Hardegree, contends that the only evidence the state has against Hardegree is his confession in which the slayer says he killed Johnson in self-defense after the latter professor had attacked him in a drunken fight. Finch maintains that the law requires to accept all of the defendant's story if part of it is accepted, and that the state must, if it accepts Hardegree's statement that he killed Johnson also accept his plea of self-defense.

Assistant Solicitor-General Ed. A. Stephens announced Friday that he was prepared to offer strong argument against any bail plea Hardegree's lawyers might offer.

Cinema 'Greats' Attend Wedding Of Bessie Love

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP) Wedding bells rang for one of the most popular actresses, Bessie Love, and William Hawks, Beverly Hills stock broker.

The marriage of Miss Love, who is one of the few in movieland to come back from oblivion in silent pictures to taste the clamorous success of the talkies, was an outstanding social event.

Most of those the klieglights have made famous thronged St. James' Episcopal church for the ceremonies at 8:30 p. m.

The couple's romance began some months ago. Hawks, a former movie actor, and Howard, motion picture executive, each gave a $28 in applying for the license to wed. Miss Love's name is Bessie Love, and she was born in Midland, Texas.

Like most film weddings for which plans have been disclosed before hand, the public had a part. Extraneous about the church were roped off in anticipation of the crowd which gathered to see the motion picture stars.

Participating in the wedding were Blanche Sweet, matron of honor, and Bebe Daniels, Carmel Myers, Edith Head, Irene Castle, Norma Shearer, Arthur Sheer, Hawks' brother, and Mary Astor, bridesmaids. Hawks' brother acted as "best man" and the ushers were Fred Stradling, Irving Thalberg, William Davey, Robert Shaulenberg, film executives.

The marriage lines were read by the Rev. Roy O. Miller, rector of the church. The couple's honeymoon plans have not been announced.

HOPKINS, FORMER SNOOK LIUTENANT, GETS MAINE POST

G. C. Hopkins, former lieutenant under the regime of Warden John A. Snook, at the Atlanta federal penitentiary, has been appointed deputy warden at the Maine state penitentiary, dispatches from Augusta Friday stated. Deputy Warden Hopkins assumed his new duties December 22.

Hopkins was demoted to a guard after Warden Snook resigned under pressure several months ago and was transferred to Leavenworth, Kan., where he was assigned to duty as a guard. He has been in service in the United States army and at the time he was deputy warden of the Kentucky penitentiary.

His new position is a decided promotion. As assistant at Atlanta he drew a salary of around $1,800, while his Georgia post was slightly over $1,600. In his new office he will receive more pay than a captain in a federal penitentiary service.

EDUCATION BOARD MEETS THURSDAY TO NAME OFFICERS

The board of education will meet at 3 o'clock next Thursday afternoon to organize for 1930. Officers will be elected and committees appointed.

Dr. McIntosh M. Durr, recently succeeded George Powell as president of the board, Mr. Powell having resigned the presidency because he was leaving the city. J. M. Maddox is first vice president and Robert Harvey is treasurer.

The meeting will be held in the city council chamber on the fourth floor of the city hall. It is understood that Frank Berry and Henry Kennedy, bankers, will be nominated for the post of treasurer.

"HARD UP" YOUTHS CAUGHT BY DRY MEN WITH RUM CARGO

Jimmy Clay and Russell Hembree, who gave their age as 18, Friday faced United States Commissioners E. S. Griffith on charges of violating the prohibition laws and glibly told how they had gone into the "liquor business" about a month ago because they were "hard up."

Apparently accepting their fate as a "tough break," both indicated they were ready to return to more legal lines of work "as soon as possible."

Federal agents trailed the pair all over the north side residential section Friday, they told the court, lost track of them twice and finally apprehended them in the act of making a delivery.

The boys said that they had purchased the whiskey in north Georgia. About 12 gallons were found in their car at the time they were arrested. Judge Griffith fixed their bonds at $300 each.

LATE COLD SPELL CAUSES INCREASE IN WATER PUMPAGE

Atlanta's water consumption during the cold weather of the past week or so has caused a tremendous increase in the daily pumpage, due to the fact that many residents allow their hydrants to run so as to avoid freezing the water pipes.

Atlanta's Claude L. Ashley, chairman of the water committee of council, said that during the past week the daily pumpage has reached 50,000,000 gallons, where the peak of last summer was 40,000,000 a day. The normal consumption at this season of the year is 29,000,000, he said.

Mr. Thurman, whom he succeeds, recently was appointed state district forester, with headquarters at Swainsboro.

Russia To Increase Force Searching Arctic Ice Wastes For Lost American Aviators

Temperature of 100 Below Will Be Experienced by Soviet Fliers; Canadians Preparing Planes.

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Dec. 28.—(AP)—Commander Melnikov, of the Soviet military air force, announced this evening that an additional Russian expedition of three airplanes would shortly be sent to join the search for Earl Gordon and Earl Borden of the Siberian coast.

These planes will be equipped with special apparatus for work in the far north and the pilots will be provided with specially made fur-lined clothing to enable them to resist the severe Siberian frosts during which the temperature sometimes sinks to more than 100 degrees below zero. Each of the planes will carry a food supply sufficient for several months.

Several days ago, in response to informal requests from the United States, the foreign office announced it would round three airplanes to the vicinity of North Cape, Semoyon Sheshtal, leader when the Soviet Moscow-to-New York flight in the Land of the Soviets, was named as commander of this expedition because of his knowledge of the Arctic and his covered and his outstanding qualifications as a pilot.

The Soviet government last night offered a reward of $1,000 for any information indicating the whereabouts of the American aviators. They also broadcast an appeal to the villages of Siberia asking for general assistance in the search.

CANADIANS PREPARE FOR EXTENSIVE SEARCH

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 17.—(AP)—While the north was silent today concerning the search for Earl Gordon and Earl Borden, Alaska air men lost between Siberia and North Cape, Siberia, since November 9, Canadian fliers were assembling their three Fairchild cabin planes for the hop across approximately 400 miles of wasteland to Nome.

Temperature hovered between 20 and 30 below zero as Captain Pat Reid worked with his pilots and mechanics prepared for the flight. The planes were lifted from flat cars upon arrival here late yesterday. As the fliers prepared their ships, replacing wings taken off for shipment and tuning powerful motors, Captain H. A. Oakes was preparing supplies and equipment for the airman on the first hop into the north.

Captain Reid will take command of the expedition when it leaves here. It was said that the Canadians probably will take the air for Nome and then Teller by Sunday.

As the airman prepared to join Eielson's companions at Teller and later at the Nanuk, fur-trading vessel frozen in the ice at North Cape, Siberia, nothing had been heard from Joe Crocker or Harold Gillum at the vessel, or Frank Dorland and Ed Young at Teller. The last reports from the four said they were waiting for favorable flying weather and nothing has been reported since Christmas Day.

Fuel shortage at the Nanuk has kept this vessel's wireless working for but a few moments daily while the same has been true at Teller.

HUNTING ACCIDENT VICTIM IMPROVING BUT MAY LOSE ARM

The condition of C. E. Castleberry, 38, of Alpharetta, who was accidentally shot in the left arm Friday morning, was reported to be greatly improved at Georgia Baptist hospital Friday.

Mr. Castleberry was shot in the arm above the elbow when both barrels of a shotgun were accidentally discharged while he was climbing from a car at the home of his brother-in-law, O. R. Burnett, preparatory to going upon a day's hunting. He was brought to the hospital here and despite early rumors that a blood transfusion would be necessary to save his life, it was found that he was not in a critical condition, though he may lose his arm.

TWO MEN WANTED BY OTHER STATES ARE JAILED HERE

Detectives John W. Lowe and Neal Ellis Friday arrested two persons wanted by police in two states.

Byrne R. Waters, 25, said by New York police to have robbed a chain store in that city, was arrested at a Spring street garage, where he has been employed. He is held on suspicion. New York police were notified.

The officers arrested at his residence, 734 Washington street, J. W. Stanford, at the quest of Weatherford (Texas) police officials. The nature of the charge against Stanford was not revealed. He is being held on suspicion.

MARKED TREE MURDER CONTINUES MYSTERY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The Marked Tree (Ark.) murder mystery was in status quo again tonight after another failed identification—this time by a father.

H. L. Fortenberry, Blytheville (Ark.) farmer, identified the mutilated body found near Marked Tree two weeks ago yesterday as that of his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Howard, 25.

Thelma Howard, the daughter of Thelma Howard, but investigation revealed she now is Mrs. Thelma Hooker, and she is alive and well near Philadelphia, Miss.

The woman's route from Blytheville, where she left her husband, Clarence Howard, a year ago, to Jonestown, Miss., then to Helena, Ark., was followed by the Associated Press at Helena, it was learned she had married A. C. Hooker and moved to Philadelphia, where Sheriff J. H. Beall, of that town, located her.

It was the second time the body had been identified incorrectly. More than a week ago, Horace Clutts, of Memphis, identified the body as that of a woman, and police established an elaborate murder theory that involved Chicago's gangland, a big run-running racket, a mysterious bus driver, and a mysterious woman.

The theory exploded, however, when Mrs. Clutts, very much alive, was found in a hotel in Louisville, Ky., from where she came to spend Christmas with her children and the husband who was preparing to bury the body of a stranger as his wife.

PREFERRED STOCKHOLDERS SECURE COURT JUDGMENT

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice Alfred Frankfurter today handed down a decision ordering payment of back dividends and the redemption of stock of a group of 71 holders of preferred stock of Godchaux Sugars, Inc., of New Orleans.

The winners of the suit, representing about 10 per cent of the holders of preferred stock and holding a total of about 2,500 shares, objected to a recent offer of the corporation to reclassify the preferred stock so that payment of dividends on common stock might be resumed.

Dividends could not be paid on common stock until arrears due on the preferred were paid, so that the corporation offered one share of new preferred stock for each share of old preferred together with a warrant calling for receipt of one share of common stock by July 30, 1930, without cost. About 90 per cent of the holders of preferred stock consented to the reclassification, the others bringing suit for redemption of their stock and the payment of back dividends.

MOB INDICTMENTS IN FUGATE KILLING ASKED BY GOVERNOR

JACKSON, Ky., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Governor Sappington today telegraphed County Judge Bach urging indictments of all members of the mob that lynched Chester Fugate Christmas Day and asking whether the facts warranted removal of the jailer from whose custody the man was taken.

Judge Bach wired the governor that the county officers were acting vigilantly and that the "good" want speedy action and breathless county vindicated, and that "this will be done." He said the jailer's term expires January 6.

REWARDS INCREASE FOR FIEND WHO SEWED DOG'S MOUTH

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Resentment and anger toward the person responsible for sewing up the mouth of a small dog and leaving it to starve a week ago continued to mount in the breasts of residents in all walks of life today. Eagerness to mete out punishment caused the total rewards offered to reach $1,678.55.

All day long the telephones in the office of the Humane Society of Missouri, under which the search for the perpetrator is being made, are busy. School children pleading their few pennies to 100 offers from businessmen coming in. Telegrams and letters reveal the interest of people out of town.

The dog was found by Robert F. Sellar, executive secretary of the society, after a woman had called asking it be put out of its misery. Sellar, in examining the animal, discovered a person had sewed its mouth with eight stitches, using a tough twine. The animal had apparently been in that condition for several days. It was painfully killed.

MINISTER TO GERMANY RESIGNS FROM SERVICE

State Department Accepts Resignation of Dr. Schurman.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, American ambassador to Germany, has received word from the state department that his resignation as ambassador has been accepted.

Ambassador Schurman told the Associated Press that he had been expecting his resignation to go through for some time and that he was glad to have it relieved. He will leave Berlin as soon as he can get ready, arriving in New York the end of January.

"I cannot speak too highly of the cordiality of the German government and people who have facilitated my work here in every manner possible," he said. "I shall always look back upon my service in Germany with the greatest satisfaction."

The Berlin post is considered one of the most important in the American foreign service, and certainly the most important which is now open for an appointment. Several names have been mentioned in connection with the Berlin position, including that of Joseph C. Grew, former under secretary of state and ambassador to Turkey. It was intimated in high administration circles, however, some time ago that the president considered Ambassador Grew well fitted for the present post in Constantinople. In view of the importance of the post, the president is expected to make an immediate selection.

CAPITOL CIRCLES NOT SURPRISED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Announcement in Berlin that the resignation of Jacob Gould Schurman, of Ithaca, N. Y., had been accepted as ambassador to Germany was not received with any surprise in official circles here.

It had been reported for some time that the resignation of the ambassador would be accepted by President Hoover and the Berlin post filled by a new appointee. The general impression in diplomatic circles in Washington was that acceptance of the resignation was withheld pending the virtual conclusion of the American-German negotiations for an agreement providing direct payment to Washington of costs for the maintenance of the American army of occupation on the Rhine and claims of Americans citizens growing out of the World War. The ambassador had been closely following the work of the final settlement of the reparations problem and was intimately acquainted with the American desire for prompt payment of the United States in the problem.

VANDERBILT WEDS MISS ANNE COLBY; QUIET CEREMONY

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(United News)—William H. Vanderbilt, grandson of Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Miss Anne Gordon Colby, member of a prominent family of West Orange, N. J., and New York, were married in a simple ceremony this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Colby, at West Orange.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, the groom's grandmother, and Miss Emily Vanderbilt, his daughter by a previous marriage, attended the wedding. Among the other guests were Mrs. Ogden Reid, of New York, and Joan D. Rockefeller, III. Only intimate friends of the two families attended. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Vanderbilt recently was appointed to the United States board of arbitration. He is proud of his New York Island politics, and his home is at Newport. He was graduated from Princeton in 1925.

BANDITS KILL STATE OFFICER IN GUN BATTLE

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Dec. 27.—(AP)—One state highway patrolman was shot and another wounded near here today in a gun battle with two men and a woman who were believed to have robbed a store at Butler, Pa.

Ray Horton, a motorist whose car was taken, reported his machine bore Pennsylvania license No. 154-142. Horton said the bandits wore his driver's license and other cards. The machine was believed to have headed westward, toward Ohio.

The bandits were riding in an automobile bearing Ohio license plates. After shooting and killing Patrolman Brady Paul and wounding Patrolman Ernest Moore, the trio fled. They later held up Horton, took his car and continued in flight toward Newcastle. The Ohio machine was abandoned here.

Mastery of Terminal Markets Next Move By Co-ops of Farmers

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Samuel R. McKelvie of the federal farm board told members of the State fair board today that mastery of the terminal markets was the next point for agricultural co-operatives to gain.

"There are over 12,000 farmers' co-operative societies in this country today having a membership of 2,000,000 and handling annually products of the value of over $2,500,000,000," he said. "For the most part these co-operatives are back in the country, and have not reached the terminal markets where the greatest influence is exercised in orderly distribution and price control."

"It is the job of the federal farm board to see that these co-operatives take the next step in organization which will give them mastery of the terminals."

McKelvie said had the farm board stepped in with loan offers and moral support at the time of the stock market crash, the wheat market would have declined seriously also.

Mercury Rise To Bring Rain To City Today

Rain is considered "likely" for Atlanta this afternoon, according to the official forecast of the local weather bureau.

Temperatures are expected to show an additional increase as the last remnants of winter's assault disappear Friday.

Extremes Friday were 42 and 58 and today's outside readings probably will be the same, about 48 and 60. Ice-covered sheltered nooks which have been in evidence here all week were reduced to an absolute minimum by the spring-like warmth and even here small patches of "snow" remained, they did not have a snowy appearance.

DISBANDING OF FASCIST PLEASEING TO STIMSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Gratification and appreciation was formally expressed by Secretary Stimson today over the action of the Fascist League of North America in dissolving itself as an organization within the United States.

Simultaneously the secretary announced that an investigation by the state department into the publication of charges following the investigation of an article in Harper's Magazine, "The investigation of the incidents referred to in the article in Harper's Magazine," the secretary's statement said, "has been completed by this department and it has been determined that the activities on the part of any Italian officials which were directed against this government or against its institutions."

"So far as the dissolution of the fascist league (of North America) is concerned, inasmuch as the existence and purposes of that league have been the subject of adverse speculative comment and possible misunderstandings, I am glad to express my appreciation that the league has dissolved itself in the United States and that the misunderstandings and better relations between this country and Italy."

'The Golden Dog' Sale of Tickets To Start Today

To handle the rapidly increasing demand for tickets to "The Golden Dog," opera of Old Quebec to be presented January 1 at the Atlanta Theatre by the Triangle Club, of Princeton University, the Princeton Alumni Association of Georgia will open ticket offices today at the Castle Pine Company and Phillips & Crew Piano Company.

HIGH SCHOOL "RED" VERBALLY FLAYED BUT ESCAPES JAIL

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—A Brooklyn magistrate today suspended sentence on a 17-year-old boy radical charged with vagrancy but told the youth he regretted that he could not black both his eyes and administer him a beating that would inspire "some real American spirit and for you what your parents should have done."

The boy, David Weiss, a high school student, had been creating disturbance in his classes with communistic activities.

Magistrate Sylvester Sabbatino told the youth that he could not send him back to Poland, but he wished he could in order that the immigration officials could "pick out some boy from the quota who would make an admirable citizen."

CAMPBELL LEAVES POST ON I. C. C. AT EARLY DATE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Johnston B. Campbell, member of the interstate commerce commission since 1921, has tendered his resignation to President Hoover, and will retire from office as soon as a successor has been selected.

The resignation of Campbell, if accepted before the first of the year, will leave two vacancies on the commission of eleven, with the remaining nine comprising five democrats and four republicans.

The term of Richard V. Taylor, of Alabama, one of the six demarcated now on the commission, expires next Tuesday. This leaves the second vacancy, the senate having reconfirmed the nomination of Robert M. Jensen, a Nashville republican, to succeed Taylor, for further investigation.

The law provides that not more than six members of the commission shall be of one political party.

ALABAMA PARTY MOVE ATTACKED BY KU KLUX

Organization Leaders Assail Barring of Bolting Candidates.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The Birmingham News today published what was purported to be an official proclamation from high authorities of the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama to Klan members which denounced recent action of the state democratic executive committee in refusing to permit persons who bolted the party a year ago to become candidates in the forthcoming primary and which asserted "we intend to lick our enemies until they can't stand up."

The statement, as published by The News, declared "Senator Tom Heflin and Judge Hugh Locke (candidates, respectively, for re-election and governor who were barred from the primary for supporting President Hoover) and hundreds of others of the noblest, cleanest, most patriotic and intelligent citizens of Alabama are discriminated against because they exercised their political freedom last year."

James Esdaile, grand dragon of the Birmingham committee, who was the author of the statement but indicated he possibly would have a statement later in the day.

The resolution, as adopted by the committee, is actually unconstitutional and illegal in several particulars, the proclamation declared with reference to Hoover supporters being elected to the primary to enter the primary as candidates. "If you vote in the primary next August you will not be honor bound to support the nominees whom you elected."

ALABAMA REPORT 'NEWS' TO EVANS

Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, said here today that the Klan as an organization is not in politics and would not take part in the Alabama campaign. He made this statement after he was read the report from Birmingham that the Alabama democratic executive committee for barring as candidates those who failed to support the democratic national ticket last year. Dr. Evans said the report from Birmingham was news to him.

"The report is entirely wrong," Dr. Evans said. "The statement may have come from a Klan official but the Klan as an organization itself is not in politics and would not take part in the Alabama campaign."

"The Klan as an organization aligned itself against Governor Smith last year because it believed his defeat necessary for the preservation of Americanism, but the Klan as an organization takes no part in local campaigns such as that in Alabama."

TENNESSEE MAN HELD FOR SHOOTING OF TWO PERSONS

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., Dec. 27.—(AP)—While Russ Landingham, 35, awaited a preliminary hearing today on a murder charge in connection with the shooting of his sister, Mrs. William Duffey, the latter's husband, William Duffey, 50, hovered between life and death in a Johnson City hospital as a result of shotgun wounds.

The shooting occurred yesterday at Landingham's home near here. Mr. and Mrs. Duffey had come from Chattanooga to spend the holidays with her brother.

Following a disagreement with Duffey, Landingham was said by Sheriff J. M. Moreland to have borrowed a shotgun from a neighbor, explaining that he wanted to kill a rabbit. When Mrs. Duffey tried to intercede between Duffey and Landingham, she was killed instantly and Duffey was wounded in the chest.

Young Republicans Of Alabama Plan To Form League

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Edward A. Fisher, Jr., of Gadsden, chairman of an organization committee, has announced plans for a statewide mass meeting here early in February for the formation of a Young Men's Republican League of Alabama.

Fisher said the qualifications for membership would be belief in the principles of the republican party and a desire to see Alabama a "two-party state."

"We are manufacturing today everything that Pennsylvania does," Fisher said. "While the Pennsylvania delegation in the national senate and house is fighting for a higher tariff on pig iron and manufactured steel products against the ruinous competition of Germany we find one of our Alabama senators working to reduce the tariff on pig iron and the steel delegation in the house voting for a tariff that would be destructive and harmful to wide diversification of industry in Alabama."

He said the league would not oppose the present republican organization and would "at no time discuss patronage."

Japan Planning To Sever Relations With Nanking Rule

TOKYO, Dec. 27.—(United News)—Japan was understood today to be planning virtual severance of diplomatic relations with China in event the Nanking government persists in refusing to accept Yukichi Obata as Japanese minister.

Japan's first move, it was said, will be to request the recall of the Chinese minister to Japan and thereafter refuse a successor. Japanese consuls will continue to carry on the routine work in connection with any problems that might arise.

It was officially announced that the Japanese had asked China to reconsider her decision, since the Chinese minister at Tokyo, it was claimed, already had informed Foreign Minister Shidehara that Obata would be acceptable.

Obata was appointed December 10.

time of four and a half hours, averaging about 175 miles an hour, though hampered by poor weather conditions.

A number of Atlanta pilots, as well as noted fliers from all parts of the country, are planning to take part in the Miami events, which, it is said, will be one of the most elaborate ever staged in the south. It was announced from Miami Friday that the first Canadian entry in the races had been received from William F. Miller, Peterboro, Canada, who notified headquarters that he would pilot a DH-4 plane in the 15-mile race for open cockpit planes of 40 horsepower, the bomb-dropping event, the dead-stick landing contest and other special events. Clarke L. Smith, of Media Airways, Philadelphia, has entered a Waco 9 in the OX-5 race and several other events.

Leo C. Wilson, supervising inspector in this district for the department of commerce, aeronautics branch, took off Friday morning for a tour of airports in Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia. He is expected to return to Candler field about January 6 to arrange for the department's activities in the Miami air meet.

The revamped postal slogan: "Nor rain, nor fog, nor storm, nor night, can stay these couriers in their flight," especially applies to F. B. Cann, airmail pilot on the Miami-Atlanta section of the New York-Miami route. Cann recently completed one year with Pitcairn Aviation Co., which now stands somewhere in the vicinity of eight hours. The attempt at the record will be one of the features of the Miami air meet, which will be held in the south Florida city January 12-15, and the low-wing monoplane, now in New York, is being conditioned for the flight. Davis said Friday that he hoped to make the 1,200-mile hop in about seven hours, which would be an average of 180 miles an hour. He flew the ship here from New York in the record time of four and a half hours, averaging about 175 miles an hour, though hampered by poor weather conditions.

A prediction that the air express problem would be solved within the next seven or eight months and that the time was not far distant, when there would be a nationwide network of air express lines, carrying large volumes of express, is made by Colonel Halsey Dunwoody, St. Louis, Mo., executive vice president of Universal Aviation Corporation. There are many problems yet to be solved, Colonel Dunwoody said, adding that the ground organization for pickup and delivery was the greatest. Once started, he said, air express, like other efforts in the transportation world, will evolve rapidly.

DUBLIN, Ga., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Lonnie Fordham, Jr., 3 years old, died here today after swallowing a firework known as "spit devil," apparently thinking the gum and powder concoction was candy.

The child was sent to the local hospital at 2 o'clock this morning, and died shortly afterward.

This was the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Fordham to die under unusual circumstances. One child died unexpectedly two years ago, and only last month the parents were awakened to find another of their children dying.

The death of Lonnie Fordham, Jr., was the only Christmas holiday fatality reported in this vicinity.

LOWMAN DEFENDS KILLING BY GUARDS

Says Fact That No Booze
Was Found Has No Bearing.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Characterizing as a rum runner the boat in which Eugene F. Downey, Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y., was shot on Lake Erie on Christmas Day, Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, today issued a statement defending the action of the coast guard crew in firing upon the vessel.

Lowman said that the boat showed no lights and failed to stop in response to signals and blank shots fired by coast guardsmen.

"No liquor was found in the boat," he said, "but this has no significance because there was plenty of time to throw the liquor overboard into the lake."

He added that the coast guard were proceeding under a section of the tariff act "which gives them full authority to stop any boat at any time in American waters for inspection."

The case now is in the hands of the United States attorney at Buffalo and the treasury department will co-operate with local authorities in every possible way to bring out the full facts," he said.

Lowman, who is in charge of the prohibition enforcement work of the treasury, gave a detailed statement of the action of the coast guard.

"At 4:30 p. m., December 25, the coast guard lookout reported that a rum runner was in Canadian waters proceeding up the Niagara river. The boat lay for a little while off Erie beach, and then started over toward the American shore."

"The officer in charge of Buffalo coast guard station sent out coast guard boat 2245 to intercept the rum runner. Darkness set in at 5:20. The coast guard boat proceeded to the north breakwater entrance light and tied up to the breakwater. Some 10 minutes later, at 6:05 p. m., the rum runner was sighted coming from a southeasterly direction. When the rum runner was within 30 yards of the coast guard boat the usual hailing signals were made and six blank shots were fired as a warning to the rum runner to stop."

"The suspected craft kept on its course and the coast guard craft fired between 12 and 15 pistol shots into the rum runner. The intent of disabling the motors. The shots were aimed low. The rum runner showed no lights and failed to stop."

"The coast guard boat continued the pursuit but because of the obstruction of floating ice lost track of the rum runner and it was fully half an hour before they finally recovered her tied to the pier, and it was found that there was a wounded man in the boat, the other man having disappeared."

"The wounded man was removed to the emergency hospital with all possible speed. It was found he had been shot in the leg and he died a short time after arriving at the hospital. The man shot was Eugene F. Downey, Jr., who was out on $10,000 bail in connection with another smuggling case. No liquor was found in the boat, but this has no significance because there was plenty of time to throw the liquor overboard into the lake."

"The case is now in the hands of the United States attorney at Buffalo and the treasury department will co-operate with the local authorities in every possible way to bring out the full facts."

"The coast guard were proceeding under authority of section 581 of the tariff act, which gives them full authority to stop any boat at any time in American waters for inspection."

NO EFFORT TO SAVE LIFE, POLICE TESTIFY.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Belief that a charge of manslaughter would grow out of the inquest into the death of Eugene F. Downey, shot by a coast guard patrol Christmas night, was expressed by District Attorney Guy E. Moore after the case was adjourned in city court today.

Downey was shot to death while speeding in his motorboat across the Niagara river.

Moore asserted today that the facts as presented to him showed the shooting resulted from "culpable negligence."

The inquest was adjourned until tomorrow on the district attorney's request so that he might examine the stenographic statement made by the coast guardsmen Thursday night.

Federal District Attorney R. H. Templeton, who was prevented by Moore from questioning state witnesses at the hearing, asked that the men be put on the stand tomorrow. Moore said that might be done if the three would waive immunity of trial for manslaughter.

Templeton said yesterday he believed the guardsmen acted in line of duty. He said they gave Downey, whom they suspected of carrying liquor in his boat, warning before they finally fired on the fleeing boat.

A high light in today's testimony was the statement of four Buffalo policemen standing near the dock near where Downey was lying wounded in his boat.

Moore asked one of them, Patrolman C. M. Meyers, if the guardsmen were making any effort to help and Meyers answered that they were not, so far as he could see. He said policemen called the ambulance to take Downey to emergency hospital and that they, the policemen, bore Downey virtually unconscious up a ladder from the boat.

Captain Paul H. Forner, of the coast guard, testified he had ordered the three men, Orrville La Grant, Randolph H. Thompson and Asa Ennes, to man a boat Christmas afternoon and to intercept an alleged rum runner which Forner said was headed toward Buffalo from the Canadian shore. Thompson, he said, later reported the shooting to him.

ANTI-TRUST ACT VIOLATION IS LAID TO BALTIMORE FIRM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The federal trade commission today made public a complaint against McKesson and Robbins, Inc., of Baltimore, charging that the corporation violated the Clayton act by acquiring capital stock of wholesale drug businesses.

The commission charged that since it was organized in 1928, the company has acquired and still owns a majority of stocks in 28 wholesale drug companies in many states.

The effect of the acquisition of these companies' stocks, added the complaint, is to tend to create in McKesson and Robbins, Inc., a monopoly of drugs, proprietary medicines and other articles usual to the drug business.

It was explained at the commission that the complaint was issued against the company last summer, that preliminary and informal hearing was then given to the company, and that this hearing confirmed the commission's belief regarding its charges.

The company is now allowed 30 days in which to answer the charges, before a date for a public hearing is set.

HOOPER CONSIDERS BUSINESS OUTLOOK VERY ENCOURAGING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The department of commerce has reported to President Hoover that Christmas shopping this year was fully up to that of last year, and he considers the situation very encouraging.

Special interest in the subject was taken by the administration, in view of its campaign in the interest of business stabilization, since there had been fears that the effect of the stock market crash last November would be seriously damaging to the retail trade.

Some of the advance calculations made to the president indicated that as much as a 10 per cent decline in Christmas trade volume was anticipated. The commerce department survey indicated, however, that while in one or two areas of the country shopping was down, in the majority of last year, in other areas there was an actual increase in Christmas buying and the national result was to make the business approximately identical with that of 1928.

BALTIMORE BANKER TAKES OWN LIFE ALONE IN GARGAE

BALTIMORE, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Sewell S. Watts, a member of the banking firm of Baker, Watts and Company, committed suicide by shooting early this afternoon.

Watts shot himself in the head in a private garage near his home, after telling his chauffeur he was going to sit in his car and rest. The body was found a few minutes later by the chauffeur. A coroner's jury was called and rendered a verdict of suicide.

The banker spent the morning in his office talking with customers as had been his usual practice. Before he went out at noon he talked with his partner, William G. Baker, Jr., with whom he had been associated five years.

Mr. Watts was said to have had two business engagements to fill this afternoon.

EDISON, FIRESTONE AND FORD ARRANGE WINTER REUNION

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The three great friends, Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford and Harvey Firestone will get together in Fort Myers in February, Mr. Firestone said here today.

"Henry Ford will come down to Florida in February and he, Mr. Edison and I will get together for a reunion," said Firestone. "Mr. Edison is noted over the progress of his experiments in extracting rubber from golden rod and a commercial product is expected in the not distant future."

Firestone, speaking of the recent stock exchange flurries, said, "The stock market crash will bring about an adjustment of actual values just as the breaking of the Florida boom brought Florida real estate prices down to what they should have been all along."

PACELLI IS ELEVATED TO HIGH VATICAN POST

BY SALVATORE CORTESI,
Associated Press Correspondent.

ROME, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The replacement of Cardinal Gasparri by Cardinal Pacelli as papal secretary of state was the talk of all Rome and especially of the diplomatic salons tonight.

Cardinal Gasparri, who is 77 years old and has considered retiring from his duties for some time, has several years of service as papal secretary. He was considered by many as the pope's favorite pupil.

The pope's acceptance of his resignation now is to be an announcement soon, and the effect of expectation was noticeable today at a reception given by the French ambassador to the holy see by Cardinal Verdier, the archbishop of Paris.

In the brilliant group of Roman and diplomatic society present there were two distinct lesser groups, one gathered round the declining star of Cardinal Gasparri and the other round the rising star of Cardinal Pacelli.

Cardinal Pacelli, like Cardinal Verdier, was elevated to the purple at the recent consistory. He was papal secretary at Berlin and has been a brilliant reputation as a diplomat.

His selection by Pope Pius was thoroughly approved by Cardinal Gasparri, who considered him one of his "most favorite pupils."

The aged cardinal today put Cardinal Pacelli in touch with all the current affairs at the holy see, and showed him his private apartment at the Vatican, which Cardinal Pacelli will occupy.

Cardinal Gasparri is still strong, but undoubtedly needs rest. He has recently followed a strict diet prescribed by a French specialist. He eats only a little white meat a day, and relies for nourishment chiefly on fruit and vegetables, especially raw salad.

This diet, however, while helping the internal complaint from which he suffers, has weakened him considerably.

TUNNEY GIVEN COURT JUDGMENT IN "BALM" SUIT

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 27.—(AP)—James J. Tunney, who was Gene to the boxing world, scored another victory today, but this time it was in the courts of law.

A judgment was entered in superior court here in his favor in the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, divorcee, of Fort Worth, Texas; New York city, and now reported as living in Boston. The gross complaint Tunney filed in answer to the woman's charges that he failed to keep his word to marry here, was also passed upon in his favor.

The action today was merely a formality. Counsel for both sides yesterday agreed that all the issues raised should be found in favor of the defendant.

To clinch Tunney's victory it was agreed at that time that an injunction restraining Mrs. Fogarty from ever again bringing similar suits be issued. Judge Carl Foster, however, declined to act upon this stipulation today, intimating that he wished more time to study the terms of the injunction.

TWO OF SEVEN MEN REMAIN AT LARGE AFTER JAIL BREAK

SPEIGNER, Ala., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Two of seven prisoners who yesterday made a dash from the state penitentiary here still were at large tonight. Bloodhounds, after trailing them all day, lost the trail. The convicts were John Douglas and Lee Hodgins.

Four of the convicts were back in custody here. The other, Vestus Winchester, was arrested near Tuscaloosa, a former prison mate informed officers of his whereabouts.

Four of the men received treatment for gunshot wounds inflicted when officers fired at them in the chase. They were W. D. Cole, Floyd Horton and J. T. Caraway. Vestus Winchester was suffering from wounds in both legs and an ear when arrested at Tuscaloosa. Winchester, brother of Vestus, was captured by prison guards after a brief chase.

LEGGE SAYS TRADERS WON'T HURT GRAIN PLAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Confidence that grain traders would refrain from going to extremes to depress the price of grain, the agricultural marketing act was expressed today by Chairman Legge, of the farm board.

After addressing the annual session of the American Farm Economics Association here, Legge expressed his opinion in response to questions by Edgar B. Brossard, member of the tariff commission. Legge had outlined the policy of the farm board.

"The only thing we are worrying about," said Legge, "is the collective action of our own clients, the farmers. That is going to tell the story, not the question of the opposition of outsiders."

Brossard asked if the board had any plan for meeting competition of private grain dealers. Legge replied the co-operatives had to face that competition and could become equally efficient, as they had control of the volume of production and an equally efficient organization for the actual sales.

The California Citrus Growers' Exchange was cited by the farm board chairman as an illustration of the collective concerted action that he said had raised that industry from a "plumable" condition to a "fairly comfortable and happy basis."

Legge said difficulty was expected in finding the right type of men to head the co-operatives but he thought they could be found.

Joseph S. Davis, recently appointed chief economist of the board, said there was some danger the co-operative movement might be "swelled by new members who are not really lacking the spirit of genuine co-operatives, to the detriment of the tone and temper of the movement."

He said the problem of regulating or restraining production was one of the most important the board would have to face. "Except as it is solved," he said, "the board will have difficulty in achieving the results for which it was established. But no one is yet in a position to say how it can be done."

SELF-INDICTED MAN FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO GET JAIL TERM

ROANOKE, Va., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The 23 steel doors of the city jail swung open this morning and gave a self-indicted man liberty once again.

In an effort to get out of the Roanoke jail, 63, is innocent. In his own heart he is guilty of arson.

Ten days ago the aged man walked into police headquarters and announced he had a confession to make. He asserted that in 1922, or thereabouts, he fired his house in Pembroke, Mass., in order to collect insurance worth $400 on some furniture.

"I want to get right with God," police said he told them. "Efforts have been made to verify his story, but so far they have availed nothing. A neighbor woman recalled the fire, but said it came from an over-heated stove. Magoun's story tallied with that of the woman except that he declared he placed fire in a box of wood behind the stove before leaving the house."

Association Secretary "Confident" of Channel For Upper Mississippi

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Lachlan MacLeay, secretary of the Mississippi Valley Association, expressed confidence today that army engineers will report favorably to congress on the practicability of constructing a standard gauge nine-foot channel in the upper Mississippi river.

He said engineers already have been supplied with evidence that traffic will be sufficient to justify the expenditure by the government and that the common carriage on the river can be maintained at rates yielding required public savings in freight and still attract private carriers.

MacLeay said traffic of the river towns alone, exclusive of coal, will support an additional investment of approximately $100,000,000 and that adoption by this congress of a standard nine-foot channel project in the Mississippi from St. Louis to Minneapolis and St. Paul will mean the project can be completed in five years or less.

TARDIEU CABINET WINS DECISIVE VICTORIES

Ministry To Enter International Negotiations With Full Confidence.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Premier Andre Tardieu and his ministers, during the month or more of important international conferences that are about to begin, will have the freedom that comes from knowledge that the home political situation is secure.

Meeting one of the most bitterly fought campaigns of the opposition, the cabinet today twice staked its life on votes of confidence in the chamber of deputies in order that the ministers might know exactly where they stood with reference to the coming reparations conference at The Hague, disarmament conference in London and League of Nations meeting in Geneva.

The government emerged with the largest majority any ministry has received in France since 1919 and nearly double that obtained in its first trial of strength this fall. The vote was 355 for the government while the opposition mustered 231.

The triumph of the cabinet today to believe that the Tardieu government can turn its attention to foreign affairs without jeopardy to its life.

The trump card of the opposition was played by Deputy Reibel who read a document purporting to have been written by Marshal Foch in which was stressed the danger to France of evacuation of the occupied territories.

This acted as a boomerang when Premier Tardieu, in his reply, returned and charged that the opposition move was cowardly in "using a dead man's name to further its own aims."

He argued that what the marshal may or may not have written in 1920 no longer referred to the situation and expressed intense surprise that the opposition should avail itself of a private document for political purposes.

Foreign Minister Aristide Briand had earlier told the chamber that he had no knowledge previously of the Foch document.

The premier demanded of the deputies "a larger vote than the 79 majority which was the initial vote with which the cabinet was invested in its last declaration." He asked that there be left no doubt of the will of the chamber, requesting either carte blanche to go ahead with the meetings abroad or else a definite indication that the government should resign at once.

On the first poll, although he obtained the sweeping vote of confidence of 342 to 17, the premier was not satisfied because the radicals and socialists had abstained. He forced another vote at once and then received the majority of 124.

Riding Master Among Guests Of Rockefeller

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Max Oser, Swiss riding master, his wife, the former Mathilde Mick, who is a granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and their three children, were among the guests tonight at the aged magnate's annual Christmas party.

The party began at 8 p. m., with the windows of the Casements, Rockefeller's winter lodge, glowing with the yellow lights from the great Christmas trees.

Although Mr. Rockefeller was host tonight, members of the household surprised him with a special music feature. The nonagenarian is very fond of Christmas carols and he was led by members of the Ormond Beach Lions Club. Guests were instructed to wear semi-formal evening clothes and Mr. Rockefeller wore a tuxedo.

The tree was laden with gifts from Mr. Rockefeller to his guests. The latter brought tokens of regard with them to the party. For Mr. Rockefeller these presents usually include at least one set of golf sticks.

Each person present at the party, and a number of people at all, always included, usually receives from two to three gifts from the delighted magnate who always waits a day or so after Christmas to hold his party.

Mathilde Oser arrived for the holiday several days ago and was followed by her husband. Among other guests were General Adolph Ames, close friend and golf partner of Mr. Rockefeller, and David Rockefeller, 14, son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who came down with several friends.

MISSISSIPPI CROP OF COTTON MAKES ALL-TIME RECORD

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Recovering from the 1927 Mississippi flood Louisiana, in 1929, planted and harvested its greatest cotton crop in history. Lionel L. Jones, agricultural statistician of the United States department of agriculture, announced today. The state yielded 810,000 bales in 500-pound gross weight this year, compared with 690,958 bales in 1928.

Louisiana had under cultivation 2,070,000 acres in cotton in 1929, compared with 2,052,000 acres in 1928. The harvested acreage in 1929 was 2,050,000, just 2,000 acres short of the cultivated area in 1928.

The average yield of lint cotton per acre in 1929 was 189 pounds.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(United News)—Billie Brown, California aviatrix, was being hailed as one of the world's greatest parachute jumpers because of her leap of more than three miles from the sky.

The United States bureau of standards revealed today that the parachute carried by Miss Brown on her flight at Los Angeles on December 1 showed that she jumped from an altitude of 16,430 feet. Aviation experts said they believed this was the highest jump ever made by a woman.

The dead sons are David, 10; Philip, 8, and John, 5.

THE GUMPS—HEAVEN EYES

Custom Built

By SIDNEY HERSCHEL SMALL

SYNOPSIS. John Andrew Kellogg, huff to millions, asks Barbara Thornton to marry him. She agrees, but not very graciously. When she learns that he has just lost his job she tells him that he will never inherit the money his father left if he doesn't prove himself capable of managing his life in a sensible way. He tells her that since he has lost one job after another, he will have to double five thousand dollars in thirty days or live on an income from a trust fund for the rest of his life. John Andrew telephones this to Barbara, and she offers to give him five thousand to turn over to Craig. He refuses and tells her he is going to Hollywood. She is furious with him and breaks the engagement. He decides to go to San Francisco and starts for California. On the train he meets Anne Ames, who is on her way to Hollywood with a letter of introduction to a movie producer. They become interested in each other. Before saying goodbye in Utah, John Andrew tells Anne that he will see her in Los Angeles in a few days.

Arrived in San Francisco, John Andrew meets an old school friend, Peter Merriam, on the street. Peter is selling Mercury cars and tries to sell one to John Andrew. They go for a trial ride, and with John Andrew at the wheel, have a slight smash-up. In order to raise money to pay for the damage, John Andrew goes to a pawnshop and sells his custom built roadster for $4,500. He then gives all but a hundred dollars of his extreme money to an old man with an invention, taking half interest in the machine without asking what it is all about. He drives the Mercury to Los Angeles and goes to the Consolidated Studio to see Anne. At noon they have luncheon together in the studio restaurant and meet Bill Carey, famous actor.

INSTALLMENT XVIII.

John Andrew jingled three dollars and forty cents (the bills—an even sixty dollars now, made no sound) and said thoughtfully, "I believe that's good advice, sir. But this deal I have on—"

Anne leaned her elbows on the table. "This deal I have on involves many angles. There might be difficulties."

"A good start's half the battle," Carey said, without interest.

John Andrew took no comfort from that remark. "And Mr. Kellogg wouldn't buy a Rolls, although I—"

The actor's mouth screwed into an expression of distaste. "I've wasted a lot of advice, haven't I?" he said directly to Anne. When she gave him glance for glance and as he stared at her, winked, his mask became genial again, although he did not clearly understand what the fencing was about.

Uncertainly, he went on, "Some American cars are pretty fine—the Mercury's got a good reputation—"

"That's what I'm driving," John Andrew said. "Miss Ames is going to try it out tonight."

"The custom built job I saw out in front?" Carey asked. "That's a car!"

"Right," John Andrew said.

"I looked for a Mercury a week ago," the actor admitted. "The Mercury people are supposed to open up offices here, but haven't done it yet. It's a new car, but I have heard it's a marvel—no speed cap can catch you when you drive it."

John Andrew said sadly, "Don't ever think it."

"Stay under forty tonight, then; it isn't publicity any more when a star gets pinched for speeding. Good-by, youngsters."

The actor was hailed several times; at one table he bent while answering the questions of a luscious blonde Consolidated star; not until he had left the cafe did Anne ask: "Are you going to sell Mercury's here?"

"Love me for what you think me," John Andrew said.

"If you are, you oughtn't to be wasting time here."

"I'm not wasting time."

"It must be nearly one," Anne told him hastily. "I've got to get back on the set. . . . John Andrew, why did you come to Hollywood?"

Kellogg looked at her so soberly that Anne turned away.

"Having decided that important point," John Andrew said, "what time shall I come and get you tonight?"

Anne's hands, under the cloth, came together nervously. "Who are you, John Andrew?" she asked.

His answer came without hesitation. "John Andrew Kellogg, thank you, feeling very well, weight up to normal, appetite very good, sound in every limb, no incoercible bad habits, and thinking of you all the time, Anne Ames." No sense in longer holding off; the love scene between Anne and the actor had shown John Andrew clearly where he stood. "Thinking of you all the time," he continued grimly, "and wondering what you think of me."

"I don't know you."

"Hm," said John Andrew. "You kissed me, didn't you?"

"I kissed the actor, also."

"I'm hardly what you'd call an expert, but it wasn't the same."

"Don't you think I'm the better judge? I was kissed both times."

After a pause John Andrew said, "Let's talk about corner lots."

"Are you in the real estate business?"

"You won't be serious about anything?"

"Wait," John Andrew said; "just wait until tonight!"

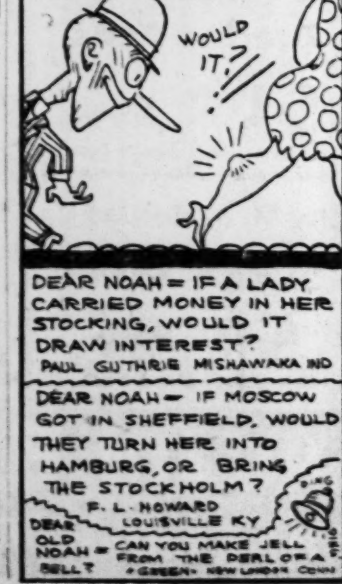

Anne stood up, her check in her

Styles by ANNETTE
Paris—New York

It's most important to appear slender. A dress must be disguised for a smart appearance. In Style No. 532 the designer has cleverly kept this thought in mind. He has modeled the bodice and finished it with a scalloped shawl collar that emphasized the diagonal closing to break the width. In the skirt he has used the side plait, grouped at front to achieve vertical line. The hips are kept snug by wide belt with loop ends at left side.

This attractive model serves many occasions gracefully interpreted in navy blue silk crepe with collar in eggshell shade piped with blue with Alencon lace used as sketched.

It is designed in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust and takes 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch contrasting fur collar and 5 1/2 yards of 32-inch contrasting fur vest for medium size.

Black suede broadcloth with collar trimmed along edge with black fur yak fur with vest of white crepe silk, is ultra-modish.

Twined in featherweight in plum tones with matching faille silk crepe vest is practical choice.

Buttle green faille silk crepe self-trimmed, tobacco brown wool, Jersey with beige vest, black crepe satin with dull surface used for shawl collar and vest and dahlia-purple canton crepe are attractive combinations.

Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

We suggest that when you send for pattern, you enclose 10 cent fee for a copy of our new Fashion Magazine.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

Boy had opened that door. He reached in and despite the hissing and snapping of Spooky he picked Spooky up.

Mr. my, my, how excited those little people were when they saw Spooky being carried away by Farmer Brown's boy.

Then Farmer Brown's boy understood. "So," he exclaimed. "You've stolen Happy Jack's new house!"

Brown's boy! They all followed along to see what was going to happen. That is, all but Happy Jack and Chatterer. Happy Jack waited only long enough to make sure that the way was clear before climbing up and into that house. He intended to keep it this time if he had to stay there all day.

As for Spooky, where do you think he was being taken to? He was being taken straight back to his old home in the hollow tree of the Old Orchard. And there Farmer Brown's boy left him, grumbling and mumbling to himself.

The next story: "Spooky Is Persistent."

Stanford Set for Attempt To Stop Army and Cagle Today

ALL-STARS RUN PLAYS FIRST DAY CUT

STANFORD SET TO HALT ARMY, CAGLE TODAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Dec. 27.—(AP)—In the huge stadium, where Coach "Pop" Warner annually conceives some of the bluest magic of football, Stanford's Cardinals will mobilize tomorrow for the concededly difficult task of enacting into silence the "big guns" of the Army team, especially one Christian Keener "Red" Cagle.

Involving neither championship honors nor builded on tradition, the inter-sectional encounter will provide two features, to wit: Give further comparison of 1929 eastern and western football, and give some 70,000 persons a chance to witness the gridiron exorcising of "Red" Cagle. Heretofore, the greatest backfield star ever developed at West Point, Cagle is the big drawing card of the post-season clash that will bring these two teams together for a second successive season.

STOPPED ONCE.

Last year in New York city, Stanford stopped Cagle. Cagle and company could not stop the football focus-moulded into what Coach Warner termed "formation B," with the result that Stanford came home with a 20-0 victory.

Army's offense is unchanged this season. Woven around Cagle, it features the "Red Knight" in practically every snapback of the ball. This year, Coach Warner abandoned his "B" system and switched back to "formation A," his first brain child in the noble wing backfield lineup. The attack seeks yardage from the impetus of reverses, fake reverses plus the added deception obtained from many lateral passes.

Football's misfortunes hit each team heavily this year after auspicious openings. For reasons yet undetermined, Stanford, with some of the best material in years, slumped to a "minor league" status. It lost two games, one a conference affair, but by defeating California, finished in a four-way tie for the conference title.

ARMY RECORD.

Army's regular schedule was completed with three defeats and a tie. Stanford's yard gaining activities will be entrusted to the "power" backfield, composed of Herb Kreis Harker, 210-pound quarterback; Lud Frentrup and Harlow Rother, halfbacks, and Chuck Smalling, fullback. This quartet of big boys crushed the championship hopes of California in the big game a few weeks ago. Stanford's line, not any too solid through the season, will be weakened by the absence of Walt Heinecke, squat center star. Heinecke is suffering from bronchitis and his place will be taken by Perry Taylor.

Army's lineup is intact and will be the same as that which went through the season just past. The Cadets are in condition, Coach "Biff" Jones said, for a great battle. A week of practice on the stadium has brought back October form. Jones feels that Cagle will show to advantage on the springy turf.

Weather conditions are not expected to affect the easterners tomorrow as the sun has not been too active in this section for weeks.

Chicago Tracks To Open May 1

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Chicago's 1930 racing season will provide for 155 days of sport, starting May 1 at the Aurora, and closing at the same track October 1, under the allotment of dates today by the Illinois Turf Association.

Aurora will open with a 21-day meeting, after which the thoroughbreds will be moved to Washington Park for a 30-day season. Arlington Park will have the whole month of July and a little more, opening on June 30 and closing August 2.

In addition to the metropolitan season, Illinois will have a 40-day meeting at the Fairmount track from May 10 to July 5.

Stanford-Army Game on Radio

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Football fans will have their last chance to tune in this season on a major game when Army tackles Stanford in the inter-sectional climax of the campaign at Palo Alto, Cal., Saturday.

Description of the contest will be broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company chain, starting at 1:45 o'clock Pacific coast time, 4:45 o'clock eastern standard time.

How Your Favorite Stars Look---Before and After

Above may be observed what the well-dressed young college men are wearing in the holiday period and below you see these same w. d. y. c. m. showing what is being worn by star football players working at their trade. The top picture shows a group of conference stars, picked by conference coaches as outstanding players of the season, here for the game New Year's Day being staged between teams representing the northern and southern portions of the conference. The young men were lounging about the Biltmore, where they are quartered, waiting for lunch. Below is a group of the players on the Northern squad of the conference all-stars getting instructions from Coaches Paul Parker and Major Bob Neyland, at Grant field yesterday. Parker is the man in white in the foreground. Major Neyland is practically hidden by No. 34, who is Al Hawkins, of W. & L. No. 60 is Drury, of Kentucky. Forquer, also of Kentucky, is No. 54. Hug, Tennessee's star end, is No. 36. Fifty-two is Gummels, of Clemson, and No. 2 is Boddy Dodd.

PANTHERS WORK OUT IN DALLAS

Pitt Crew, on Way to Coast, Drills With All-Stars.

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 27.—(AP)—There was more extra fancy football talent in this city today than ever before gathered under one roof in the southwest. There were more All-Americans and near All-Americans than one could comfortably shake a stick at.

There were, to begin with, the undefeated Pittsburgh University Panthers, champions of the national title, passing through on their way to Pasadena, Cal., where they have an engagement with the University of Southern California on New Year's Day.

They shared interest with the outstanding stars of the southwest and midwest, who are engaged in a strenuous training grind for their benefit tussle here on New Year's.

Tonight the members of the three squads sat down at a banquet given by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, around the festive board were such nationally known stars as Welch, All-American halfback of Purdue; Unsa and Donohoe, All-American halfback and end of Pittsburgh, and a raft of other greats, including members of the undefeated Texas Christian and Southern Methodist teams.

The Pittsburgh squad of 33, making its trip to the coast by easy jumps, took advantage of the ideal weather it had struck to engage in a lengthy workout. Coach John Sutherland put his huskies through a long signal drill and then let them romp and pass and kick to their hearts' content. The team left for El Paso after the banquet.

Coach Ray Morrison's southwest all-stars worked out on an adjoining field to the Panthers, while Jimmy Phelan's midwest boys practiced at Fairpark stadium across the city.

Tinker Active
Joe Tinker will act as both coach and business manager of the Buffalo club.

Out at the Atlanta Biltmore the cream of conference football has been collected. Famous names adorn the register—names made household words by a thousand headlines.

Between practicing and eating and taking automobile rides, the gridiron kings gather in groups in the lobby and get acquainted by telling each other how good the other is.

The young men have heard nothing but good about themselves from their recent enemies.

Incidentally the southern and northern groups already have begun to split apart. A genuine feeling is developing that will become fairly acute by the time the whistle blows New Year's Day.

ALL LOOK BIG.

Many of the players had their first glimpses of each other in the lobby yesterday morning and reactions were interesting.

Vance Maree, Tech's big tackle, took one look at Gummels and Swofford, of Clemson, and Forquer, of Kentucky, standing together and said to a companion: "Say, I thought I was big, but I feel like Johnny Branch now."

Nobody could believe Pete Drury, the Kentucky tackle, weighed 200 pounds and stood over six feet. Drury looks 25 pounds lighter in his street clothes.

And when "Shipwreck" Kelly had Vance Maree pointed out to him he let out a squawk of dismay and swore he was catching the next train for Lexington.

NORTH CARRIES THE WEIGHT.

Taken by and large, the northern, or Blue, squad seems to pack a bit more weight over all than the southern Reds. The

TIDE DECLINES COAST GAME

Southern California Offer Rejected; May Play in 1931 Season.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 27.—(AP) University athletic officials announced today that the University of Southern California had offered Alabama a game to be played at Los Angeles next November 15 but that the Tide would be unable to accept because of a conflict in schedules.

Alabama is scheduled to play the University of Florida at Gainesville on November 15. Officials have advised the California institution the only alternative for next season is a game on December 6, when the Crimson have an open date.

In the event a game cannot be arranged for next season it was indicated that negotiations would be started for a contest in 1931.

Perfect Alibi Havana Victor

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Sprinters again furnished the chief thrills today in the feature races at the Jefferson Park and Havana race tracks.

Perfect Alibi, starting for the first time at the Havana meeting, easily raced away with the $1,000 Yumuri Valley purse in a 5 1/2-furlong hunt for two-year-olds. Time was 1:08 1/2. Perfect Alibi paid 8 to 1 to win.

W. C. Goodloe's Baltimore took second place with similar ease while O. L. Foster's Title Oak, which showed the most early speed, was a driving third.

Tadewawa, owned by the Jones Stock Farms, turned in a brilliant finish to win the feature at Jefferson Park in New Orleans, a six-furlong dash for three-year-olds for a purse of $1,000. Disturb, a long shot that paid $13.40 in the mutuels to place, was second and Braggadocio third. The winner finished half a length in front in 1:14 4/5.

Princeton To Try Coachless Teams

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 27.—(United News.)—The much-discussed "give the game back to the boys" idea in sports will receive a test in Princeton University's baseball campaign next spring. It was announced here today. Dr. Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the board of athletic control at the university, said that coachless teams would take the field when Princeton plays Yale and Columbia in baseball games.

The games will be part of the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball league. The players will devise their own strategy without the assistance of the coaches.

Dr. Kennedy said that Columbia and Yale had accepted the proposals made by Princeton, and that other members of the league "expressed a sympathetic interest" in this experiment.

Bagshaw Offered Conference Post

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Enoch W. Bagshaw, head football coach at the University of Washington for nine years, said here today that he was considering three coaching positions—one in the Southern conference, another in the east and the third in California. Bagshaw resigned at Washington last month after a year of friction with students and alumni.

Turfman Dies.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 27.—(AP)—William Dondas, racing secretary of the Miami Jockey Club, died suddenly in the business district of Miami tonight. He was believed to have succumbed to an attack of acute indigestion. Dondas had been here for several weeks preparing for the scheduled race meet of the Jockey Club at its Hialeah track. He was well known throughout the nation's racing circles, and was 47 years old.

BALTIMORE FIVE BEATSTECH, 24-22

Rally Fails for Jackets in First Game of Trip.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 27.—(AP) A second half rally by Georgia Tech basketballists tonight failed to overcome a first period advantage gained by the University of Baltimore by one field goal and the Atlantics lost, 24 to 22.

The last period drive of the southerners, which just failed to reach a tying mark, was built about Williamson, a substitute forward, who, although not in the game throughout, tied with Silver, of the local team, for high point man of the evening with four field goals apiece. Heckle, another Tornado forward, came next in line with three field goals.

The local team started with as much of a rush as the Tornado guarding would allow, and led at half time by 15 to 6. During the second half things were reversed, the local bangers, but 9 points to the 16 garnered by Georgia Tech.

Butler Defeats Vanderbilt, 39-14

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(United News.)—The Butler Bulldogs, last year's national intercollegiate basketball champions, won their fifth consecutive victory of the 1929-30 season tonight by swamping Vanderbilt University 39 to 14.

The score at the half—Butler 23, Vandy 2—was a better indication of the superiority of the Bulldogs. Vandy had only 14 shots at the basket during this half. Early in the second half Butler rushed in all second-string men, and the Commodores played on more even terms.

Captain Hildebrand and Christopher were the stars for Butler, while Marsh and Captain Cram led the visitors.

GREAT GAME IS ASSURED; NOTABLES HERE

Forty-Three Players Are Present; Brandt Subs for Nutter.

By Ralph McGill.

At 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon exactly 43 young models of what the college man is wearing this winter disappeared into the tunnel at Grant field. They emerged 30 minutes later as the Blue and the Cardinal squads, representing, respectively, the northern and southern divisions of the Southern conference.

On New Year's Day they will meet at Grant field in a football game that should be one of the greatest football games ever played on Grant field. And the old field has seen quite a few.

They never had any idea but that the afternoon was cut out for work and it is fortunate they were so work-minded. Bob Neyland took the Blue team from the northern division and Charles Bachman took the Red.

LEARN PLAYS.

Within 15 minutes they had learned the running game formation and a half-hour later were working on their first forward pass.

It was a remarkable demonstration of what experience means in football. The players took to the work quickly and with no hesitation at all.

They will take to it again this morning, as morning and afternoon practice has been ordered for today, and will probably be on the schedule for Monday and Tuesday. This meant the cancellation of a luncheon scheduled for the East Lake Country Club today, with Bobby Jones as toastmaster. The boys wanted to go, but they couldn't spare the time. This thing is getting serious.

Major Bob Neyland had 24 of his squad present. They were waiting on Nutter, but, after practice, Nutter wired, saying that he could not play in the game. The committee promptly substituted Fritz Brandt, Tennessee end. Brandt, who had a much finer record than Nutter, promptly accepted and will reach Atlanta this morning.

This added to the strength of the northern squad, giving them both Tennessee's brilliant end, Brandt and Hug; Johnson, a tackle, and Dodd, McEver and Hackman in the backfield—all members of the undefeated Volunteer eleven.

The northern eleven worked on Clay field while the southern squad used the north end of Grant field. The Redskins had 17 men present, with the others on the way.

GOING GOOD.

Before the afternoon closed both squads had scrimmaged their linemen and the backs had got well-limbered up. They then ran a few signals. They made as much progress in one afternoon as the football squads make in a whole week in September.

OTHER STARS.

Johnny Branch, pretty well known in Atlanta, thank you, was at quarterback as a representative of North Carolina. "Shipwreck" Kelly, of Kentucky, and Jim Magner, another of North Carolina's stars, were the half-back positions. Radice, of Maryland, was at fullback.

If there are any skeptical about the genuineness of the contest they can dispel it easily enough. The two teams are working hard and there is already considerable rivalry between the two sections. They are living on different floors at the hotel and with the quick elusiveness of the college players they have formed their own alliances.

The two head coaches, Major Neyland and Charles Bachman, went after the job in a hurry. Neyland had two assistants who were hustling as well. Paul Parker, an assistant at Tennessee, had the line and Gus Tebell, of North Carolina State, was aiding with the backs. Major Van Fleet, former Florida coach, was aiding Bachman. Harry Mehr, of Georgia, will reach Atlanta today. He will aid the southern squad.

REAL TEAMS.

The coaches will turn out two real football teams for the game New Year's Day. It will be, unless all signs fail, the most spectacular game the south has ever seen. These players are going out to win and there is enough talent out there to stir the enthusiasm of the most surfeited football fan.

Over on Grant field the southern team went to work with a lot of Georgia and Tech men fraternizing together. Charles Bachman was using Stumpy Thompson and Red Bethea, the latter one of his own 'Gators, at halfbacks, with Benny Rothstein, of

All-Star Elevens To Drill Secretly

According to word received from Al Dondas, head of the Atlanta Athletic Club, all practices held by the All-Star teams from the northern and southern divisions of the Southern conference here for the New Year's Day game for the Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children, will be behind closed gates.

It was the original intention of those behind the project to make all practices open and to admit the public. At later conferences of the coaching staffs it was brought out that the fans would have a better run for their money if neither team knew anything of the offensive style to be employed by the other, and the members advised the barring of the gates.

Griffiths Gains Unimpressive

"TUFFY" FAILS TO QUALIFY FOR SHARKEY BOUT

Western Youth Wins Six of 10 Rounds From Veteran.

By Frank Getty,
United News Sports Editor.
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N. Y., Dec. 27.—(United News.)—"Tuffy" Griffiths, of Sioux City, Iowa, fulfilled expectations by defeating Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, in a hard fought 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight, but failed to qualify as a logical opponent for Jack Sharkey in Miami next February.

Griffiths, weighing 184 1/2 to his opponent's 192, stepped around Risko at times like a lightweight, but lacked the punch to cause the tough brawler any real distress. The decision of the referee and judges was unanimous, but the crowd still had some applause left for Risko when Johnny left the ring, for he put up a game fight and made the issue fairly close by a stirring rally in the last two rounds.

SHOWS LITTLE.
At no time did "Tuffy," who only recently graduated into the heavy-weight ranks, show signs of possessing the qualifications of a potential heavyweight champion. He had the speed of foot and boxing ability to outpoint Risko tonight, but he couldn't hurt the Clevelander.

"Tuffy" won at least six of the 10 rounds. With Risko opening in whirlwind fashion and coming back in the closing sessions to fight the lowman flat-footed. There were no knockdowns, and the only visible sign of injury was a cut opened under Risko's left eye.

A decisive victory for Griffiths tonight might have qualified him to meet Jack Sharkey, of Boston, in the bout which Madison Square Garden proposes to stage this winter at Miami. While there was no disputing the margin of "Tuffy's" triumph over Risko, he failed to show anything entitling him to a bout with the Lithuanian.

RISKO FAILS.
Risko failed to live up to his reputation as a spoiler of reputations. He sailed into "Tuffy" and carried off the honors in the first round. The next four went to Griffiths, however, for he proved a cleaner, harder hitter than the Clevelander.

The fighting was fast and furious during the first half of the bout, and by the end of the fifth both men had slowed down to a walk. Johnny forced the fighting and won the sixth, but after that Griffiths was on top of him for two sessions.

A desperate rally in the ninth and tenth in which Risko drove "Tuffy" several times to the ropes, failed to even matters and Griffiths' hand was raised as the victor.

Gridmen To See Wrestling Bout

Visiting football players who will be in the city for the charity game on Grant field next Wednesday afternoon will be honored by the city at the New Year's wrestling card at the city auditorium, it has been announced by Promoter Henry Webber. A special section of the auditorium will be reserved for the visitors.

Jim London, who is a favorite with Atlanta wrestling fans, and Milo Steinborn, considered as the strongest of all wrestlers, have been matched as the headline and they will wrestle for the best two out of three falls.

Although London and Steinborn have been looked as the main attraction, Frank Johnson, former wrestling coach at Harvard University, and Jim McMillen, ex-Illinois football line-man, who was picked for all-American honors at the Atlanta wrestling card, will also be in the line.

Either of those would be a headliner on any wrestling card, but the two together make it an all-star program for Atlanta fans on New Year's night.

Florida Sail Race Set for March 29

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Date of the St. Petersburg-Havana sailing race has been set for Saturday, March 29, it was announced here today by George S. Gandy, Jr., in charge of the event.

The sailing vessels will line up at the Recreation pier at 11 o'clock on the morning of that date and will race over a course of 254 nautical miles to Havana.

The event is one of the features of St. Petersburg's annual festival of states celebration, set this year for March 24 to 29.

McEver, Tennessee's star back, can run fast and far on a rain soaked field. This stout Tennessee in good stead when it played a muddy football game with Vanderbilt to win 13 to 0. On football player and business man it rains alike, and this is the season of rainy days. Raincoats come in handy in the winter months. We have them—and when you see them you'll be surprised to see how smart a raincoat can look—and how low they can be priced.

Walker Has Exceptionally High Average for Earned Runs.

By Brian Bell.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Official pitching averages of the National league, made public today, indicate that the lively ball was more than a myth in the senior baseball circuit last season. Bill Walker, left-hander of the Giants, who led the league in pitching effectiveness, allowed 3.08 runs per nine-inning game. This is the highest mark with which a pitcher has won the honor since earned run rating was made a part of the official averages in 1912.

Charlie Root, Cubs, led on the basis of games won and lost with 19 victories and six defeats giving him an average of .760. Burleigh Grimes, Pirates, was second in effectiveness with an average nine-inning yield of 3.13 runs, and third in games won and lost with an average of .708, winning 17 and losing 7.

Guy Bush, Cubs, with 18 games won and seven lost, was second on the basis of earned run rating, the Mississippi entry, who pitched Chicago to its lone world series victory, was seventh. Bush was the most active pitcher in the league, taking part in 50 games. Charlie (Red) Lucas, Cincinnati manager, engaged in the most complete games, 28.

VANCE SLOWS.
For the first time since 1922, Arthur (Dizzy) Vance, the Brooklyn meteor, was not the streakout king. Slowed down by illness and forced to forego much of his normal activity, Vance yielded the crown to Pat Malone, of the Cubs who forced 166 to third base, and to the great number of games, and faced the most batsmen, 1,189, and allowed the greatest number of hits, 295. Only five pitchers struck out more than 100 opponents. Malone, Clark, Vance, Root and Carl Hubbell, who is with the Giants.

Malone, in addition to the strikeout honors, secured the most victories, 22, standing alone as the only pitcher in the circuit to register more than 20. He also led shutouts with five.

MOST RUNS.
Clyde Wilgus, of the Phillies, allowed the most runs, 126, and another Philadelphia, Ray Benge, was responsible for the most earned runs, 139. A third Phillie, Bob McGraw, finished the most games, 24.

Clare Dudley, Brooklyn, led in hitting batsmen with 10 and Fred (Sheriff) Blake, Cubs, gave the most bases on balls, 130. Douglas McWeeny's 11 wild pitches led all the rest.

The only no-hit game of the season was pitched by Hubbell, of the Giants, against the Pittsburgh Pirates, May 8. The Giants won the game, 11 to 0.

tackles, guards, centers are gigantic. The ends, however, are not at all bulky.

The Blue backfield men are huskier it seems to the eye, although the scales might show very little difference.

BACHMAN OPTIMISTIC.
No matter what the newspapers have said to say over the apparent superiority of the Blues in this game, Coach Bachman is not at all disturbed. He likes his squad very much.

He noted with some pride that Eberdt and Harkins were on hand for the first luncheon and rearing to play center. He pointed out that he had four real guards in Steele, Bodenger, Leathers and Maddox.

And there on his right at the luncheon table was Vance Maree, a fairly good tackle; and Moulton Smith, another one farther down the line; and down at the end of the table was Congressman Frisbie slowing away a slab of rare roast beef, getting up steam to play tackle some more.

"A coach could not ask for better ends than Jones, Maffet, Moore and Dalrymple," Coach Bachman continued.

"And if any one asks, please remember that Dunlap, Thomson and Mizell played together on the same team this season."

SEES SPECTACULAR GAME.
Coach Bachman thinks the game will be spectacular. He points out that while team work cannot be developed to a high degree in such a short time, that every man will be on his own resources and will be doing his utmost to win by his own efforts.

"Such a game always produces the unexpected and I predict that everything that can happen will happen," he said.

"The boys who are here are the ones who love the game. They will get the spirit as soon as they get on a uniform and they will play with everything they have."

INVITED TO MAT SHOW.
Henry Webber, the big wrestling promoter, has invited the all-stars to attend his mat show at the auditorium New Year's night.

"The boys may like to come down before they go to the dances," Webber said, "and we want them to be right down front."

Tickets to the match were sent to Robert H. Martin, chairman of the entertainment committee, for distribution.

SWAMPED WITH BIDS.
At that the coaches have a cinch job compared to Bob Martin. He is the clearing house for invitations to the players and if all were accepted the boys would be doing nothing but stepping out socially. As it is, Chairman Martin has conformed his entertainment program to the training rules laid down by the coaches.

And incidentally after a good long practice period, the playing guests will be in no condition to do ought but eat and go to bed.

The players had a theater party last night at the Capitol, by invitation of Carter Barron, manager.

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The rally in stock prices, promoted by the short covering which began Tuesday, was swamped with renewed liquidation today, after a final spurt during the early hours of the session.

Popular trading shares generally rose 1 to 5 points in the morning, only to lose most of their gains in the afternoon.

With the covering movement apparently completed, the market turned decidedly dull. With the short camp reduced, enthusiasm in the market to drift toward shares was permitted.

Measures pending more definite holiday retail trade and the success of the course of general speculation for the turn of the year.

Large liquidation turned the advance heavy. The rally has been completed and the market is now in a state of reaction.

lion laughed in the face of the king of beasts and walked boldly past him.

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1929.

Good fortune was with him for a long time. The beasts he met were well-fed perhaps, or his very boldness so filled them with surprise that often he passed within a few paces of some great lion without arousing more than a warning scowl. But one day he met a lion who had not dined. They were walking across a little plain on which grew small clumps of bushes. The boy was the first to discover the lion's presence.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"Run, Akut!" called the boy to the ape who was a few yards to his right. "Numa has hid in the bushes. Take to the trees, Akut! I, the son of Tarzan, will protect you," and the boy, laughing, the brush where the lion lay concealed. The ape flashed his spear and executed an improvised war-dance to show his contempt for the king of beasts.
